

NEW BADEN SPRINGS.

EDITOR GRAPHIC.—Seeing from the papers so many conflicting accounts of the mineral springs in Adair county, as to their quality, quantity, and location, I will state a few facts concerning them: That they possess great medicinal properties none need doubt if they will take the trouble to come and spend a short time in these beautiful woods in which the springs are located. I use the word "springs," not "ripples" of water but beautiful springs from which the waters gush at the rate of a pint in eight seconds. This is No. 1 spring; there are 4 others, one with a greater flow of water than the above, and so it continues to flow—never varies. The oldest settler out here will tell you it is the same now as he knew it 50 years ago when it was known as the Indian medicine water. There is sufficient water in these springs for both and drinking purposes. A supply sufficient for all that may come. One man who comes regular, says he commenced drinking these waters, and the effect upon him was marvelous. Before drinking them he could not turn over in bed; now he is a new man and can turn any way. Another who has suffered for years with sleepless nights, now sleeps like a child and feels a new man. Some upon drinking it vomit; upon others it acts as a mild aperient and in other cases producing the wished for relief from pain. Scores are fetching it in jars on horseback and in wagons, taking it home to sick wives and children. Others are sending off relations to come and be healed. Any one desiring of having the names of parties benefited can have them. I have not asked to use any names, but I know the will be given as they are telling everyone they see of the good done to them.

The location of these springs are not as stated by the newspapers. They are on one of the oldest farms in Adair county, now owned by the writer, Geo. Shaw, 11½ miles west of Kirksville, and known as I do, that good has been done. I invite all to come and drink; there is plenty and to spare: room for all, and any parties coming, desiring to stay a few days, may occupy any portion of my unfenced land, close to the springs, either in wagon or tent, using the fallen wood to cook with. And any respectable party wishing to sell refreshments this fall may do so (providing no other arrangements are made) either under canvas or other suitable erection. I wish to say as long as I have control of these grounds no intoxicating drink shall be sold upon them. I say this because I shall prosecute all who do so.

Geo. Shaw,
Owner of New Baden Springs.

An Iowa Romance.

A touching little romance illustrating wisely devotion has come to light on Mount Ida, in Ida county Iowa. Two years ago a comely young lady was accepting the attention of two gentlemen, one the possessor of a fair competence, and the other poor like herself. Upon the death of her parents the grandmother assumed her control. To please her relative she consented to unite her fortunes with those of the poor young man, who besides his impoverished circumstances, was a cripple. The more acceptable suitor was nearly crazy. A tempting offer to enter business in New York was refused by him. He declared his intention to be wherever his loved one, then the wife of another, was located. A year after the wedding the husband fell ill. A disease made inroads upon his constitution, and poverty stalked in at the door. The young wife was obliged to seek employment in a knitting mill. Last week, after long illness, in which he was steadfastly attended by his hardworking companion, death brought an end to the poor cripple's existence. During the illness the rejected lover was the contributor of delicacies to the sick, which the patient, with a knowledge of the source from which they came, accepted. A vow that the disappointed gentleman made upon the marriage of his idol to the deceased is possibly attended with prospects of realization. It was that should the accepted one die during the lifetime of the rejected one, he would renew his suit. Although the earth over the grave of the dead has hardly settled, an interview has been requested and two hearts separated by fate will probably be united by love.

The Chicago Times sought the opinions of 1,000 representative men, through its correspondents, on the influence of the attempted assassination of the president upon politics. The results are summarized as follows: 1. It has softened the asperities of partisanship. 2. It has greatly modified the sectional feeling. 3. It has overborne the feeling of sentiment of "stalwartism." 4. It has tremendously strengthened the sentiment of nationalism. 5. It has turned political feeling, in all sections and parties, into a strong current of friendliness toward the administration. The testimony shows that the attempt to change the government by assassination has wrought "a marked change in political feeling," and shows what the marked change is. Whether it will or will not be a durable change, is a matter of personal opinion. The respondents are unanimous, or nearly so, in their failure to discern any indications foreshadowing a break-up or re-arrangement of political parties. The evidence is overwhelming—a thousand witnesses against two or three—to the effect that it has directed public attention to, and convinced the country of, the imperative need of "some radical cure" of the spoils-distributor.

She. Don't put your arms around my neck.
You'll rattle all my ruffles.
He. Then let me kiss you without force, And thus avoid all scuffles.
She. There is no sweetness in a kiss Unless by force 'tis taken.
He. I know it. There! Oh, this is bliss! This style of osculation.
She. My ruffles you have rumbled love, And put me in a fluster.
He. Oh, never mind; I'll fix it dove, For I'm a Readjuster.

The above lots in Richter's addition are situated near the State Normal School, building and are high and rolling, and well adapted to building private dwelling residences, or boarding houses. The close proximity to the Normal building makes them particularly desirable for purposes of boarding houses.
This will be a rare chance for making good investments in lots, and at the present demand for tenant houses, no investment will pay better than building houses for that purpose.
A plot of the property can be seen at the office of A. L. Woods, and any information in relation to title of property, terms of sale, etc., may be had by calling.
Any of the above lots may be bought at reasonable price at private sale at any time

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE.
The most successful remedy ever discovered as it is certain in its effects and does not disturb. READ PROOF BELOW.
FROM A PROMINENT PHYSICIAN.
Washingtonville, O., June 17, 1880.
Dr. R. J. KENDALL & Co., Gentles.—Reading your advertisement in Turf, Field and Farm, of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and having a valuable and speedy horse which had been lame from spavin eighteen months, I sent to you for a bottle by express, which in six weeks removed all lameness and enlargement and a large splint from another horse, and both horses are today as sound as colts. The one bottle was worth to me one hundred dollars.
Respectfully yours, H. A. BARTON, M. D.
KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE.

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 18th, 1880.
Dr. R. J. KENDALL & Co., Gentles.—I have a very fine mare that has had a bone spavin for a long time. I tried everything man could devise to cure it, but all in vain, and was about to give it up when a friend of mine in this city came to me and recommended Kendall's Spavin Cure, which I tried with great results, removing that bone clear and clean, and then I sent 25 cents to you for one of your illustrated Horse Books, and I think there is no better book printed on the horse and his diseases. I have taken great interest in it and have since sold 15 copies for you to my neighbors, and will try and do what good I can by getting them for others.
Yours truly, G. W. MILLER.
STATEMENTS MADE

UNDER OATH.
To WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.—In the year 1875 I treated with Kendall's Spavin Cure, a bone spavin of several months' growth, nearly half as large as a hen's egg, and completely stopped the lameness and removed the enlargement. I have worked the horse very hard ever since, and he never has been lame nor could I ever see any difference in the size of the leg joints, since I treated him with Kendall's Spavin Cure.
